

COIN TEST

Results Report

The COIN TEST Results Report presents an analysis of an individual's ability to handle and count money accurately in typical retail money transactions. The analysis is based not only on questions that are answered correctly, but also on which questions are answered correctly or incorrectly, and the pattern of responses. This analysis is based on a scientific, validated set of decision rules that are derived from thousands of administrations of the COIN TEST.

An individual's COIN TEST results are expressed as a comparative score (where 100 is a perfect score), a description of the individual's work style, suggestions for placement based on the individual's unique pattern of answers, and training tips.

The training tips, which are based on the individual's ability to process information under time pressure, can be used to customize orientation and on-the-job training and development programs.

The COIN Test Results Report can be printed on demand by the scoring software.
